TINA LOGAN – WEEKLY REPORT DISCLAIMER AND WAIVER OF CLAIMS

I acknowledge that trading in the stock market involves a high degree of risk and that I may incur financial losses if I engage in such trading. I understand the weekly newsletter written by Tina Logan is purely educational in nature and is designed and intended to assist subscribers in increasing their knowledge of the stock market, pattern recognition, and applying the principles and strategies learned.

I acknowledge and agree that all content in the newsletters, and any follow-up commentary provided, are for educational purposes only and do not constitute either investment advice or recommendation to buy or sell any particular stock. I understand that the author, Tina Logan, will not be available to advise me or guide me through any specific trades that I choose to engage in as a result of discussion in the newsletter. The newsletter is not a substitute for my own research but rather an educational tool.

I realize any or all strategies may be subject to change as needed with market conditions. The dynamics of the market often require traders to change their methods and systems over time. Therefore, what the author is utilizing at any given time may differ in the future as market conditions change and/or the author tests new systems and learns new, more effective methods.

I acknowledge that the author is not a stockbroker, broker dealer, or investment advisor, and that she makes no recommendation either to purchase or sell any particular stock, bond, option, or security of any kind. No content, examples, information or materials shall be construed as any recommendation, solicitation, prediction, or advice for my own actions in and dealings with the stock market.

I acknowledge that the newsletter is for my use only. I agree not to copy, share or distribute it to any other individual without written permission from the author. I am not an agent of, or acting on behalf of, any seminar or other company that provides competitive training or products. I agree not to post lists of trade setups referenced in the newsletter in trading clubs or chat rooms.

I understand that the content of the newsletter represents the author's knowledge and interpretation of the stock market and trading at the time it was written or revised. I realize that charting is partially a skill and partially an art, and some of the content of the newsletter is subjective in nature. There is no guarantee these strategies/systems or trade setups discussed will suit my trading personality, but rather are intended to serve as a model. I acknowledge that it is my responsibility to review, practice and put what I have learned to use. Becoming a great trader requires commitment, focus and discipline. I realize the author cannot be responsible for these things; it is up to me to do the work required.

By purchasing a subscription to Tina Logan's weekly newsletter through www.tinalogan.com, I agree that I have read and agree to the terms and conditions above.
